It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Proud of Her Accomplishment

One Mother Says: I taught my busy little Molly how to thread a needle, and she is quite proud of the assistance she gives me with my sewing. She threads all the rather coarse needles I use for buttoning, knots the threads and places the needle in rows in my large pin cushion, where they are always ready at hand. She takes great care that I never run out of threaded needles.

Domestic Issues, Rigid Economy In Government

Dawson plan would solve Europe's difficulties that American citizens would help put it in force and again announced his intention of sponsoring another disarmament conference when the plan appears to be in operation.

With this reference to foreign relations the President passed back to domestic affairs.

Agriculture he said has seen a partial relief come in a natural way and declared the path of greater prosperity lay through "more organization, co-operation, diversification," a wise skilled and unselfish leadership and co-thwarted protection by tariff.

Concerning his determination to further reduce the cost of government and taxation he said: "I take from everyone part of his earnings and force everybody to work a certain part of his time for the government."

He affirmed his intention to press Congress for more tax reduction particularly in high surtaxes resulting such a course as the "guarantee of prosperity" and business is worth more to the small income tax payer than a considerable percentage of tax reduction.

After a declaration that economy would be enforced in the conduct of his campaign he devoted a few words to lesser issues.

The Supreme Court's power should not be tampered with, women are to be welcomed in politics as a new government ownership is to be avoided, negroes must be protected in their constitutional rights, prohibition will be enforced, child labor should be abolished, the Army and Navy should be sufficiently maintained.

A possible reference to the Ku Klux Klan was contained in this sentence: "This is one country we are one people united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outcasts, no race or religious prejudices in government."

Rev. White at Lebanon. Rev. D. C. White of McCallandtown former pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church at Vandeventer, will preach at the services of the Presbyterian congregation Sunday morning at the H. C. Fryk hall at Lebanon. The Sunday School will be at 9:45 o'clock.

Rev. Henry Mansell At Greenwood Church On Sunday Morning

Rev. Henry Mansell recently of Java where he spent 10 years as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach Sunday in the Greenwood Church, the service beginning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Mansell comes of a line of Methodist preachers beginning with Joseph Mansell, one of the pioneers of the church in Western Pennsylvania.

By marriage Rev. Mansell is connected with another line of Methodist pioneers, his wife having been Miss Wakeloid a granddaughter of Rev. Samuel Wakeloid. These two families had as much to do with establishing Methodism in this section as any others that could be named, it is said, or perhaps more.

Divada Team, Outclassed, Is Annihilated by Strong Browntown Independents

Three Mountsman Unable to Stop Onslaught of Visiting Batters.

FINAL RESULT IS 14-2

Outclassed in every respect, the Divada team fell before the onslaught of the crack Browntown Independents at Fayette City last evening at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. grounds before a large crowd of fans. The score was 14 to 2. The Young Valley nine was out of it to 5, and contributed to the visitors with six errors, three bases on balls and by hitting two batsmen.

Captain Barman of Fayette City, well known in the tri-town district, said to Captain Durbin of the Divada, prior to the game, that "we've come here to see and conquer and we expect to win this game. After we hand your nine a beating we'll show some of these highly touted teams in the coke region a little baseball. We expect to tangle with the Scottsdale Independents, Uniontown Elks and will give the Capstan Independents consideration," remarked Captain Barman.

Every member of the visiting team had one hit or more with the exception of "Chop" Hough, the ace mountsmen. Grant and the pitcher were the only ones who did not carry in tallies. The Divada team managed to get four hits, three of which were doubles. Bunny Rusinko helped himself to two John Sobonago got the other extra. Nowell and Frank Brown managed to crack out singles. The others fell before the wonderful pitching of Hough who is rated as one of the best in the Tri-State League.

Danny LaPorte and Art Brown were in the local line-up as was Frankie Trotter and Rusinko of Leisenring No. 1. The latter made an impressive showing in his initial game.

The visitors opened up in the second by sending over two markers and continued in the fourth by sending a quartet of runs across the plate. This was sufficient for Bill Adles, who gave way to Durbin. The latter mountsmen had pitched but two days ago and his arm bothered him. One rally came in the fifth frame and in the sixth issuing two walks and hitting one man, the visitors took advantage and shot three runs in. Frasier went on the mound in the last frame but he was nipped for four runs. The home nine garnered its two runs in the sixth frame.

Saturday evening, the Dickerson Run railroad nine will play at Pittsburg. The Divada Independents will play its next game on Tuesday evening at Fayette City, meeting the Browntown nine again. Wednesday, the Star Junction outfit will be at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. grounds.

BRADDOCK ELKS AT SCOTSDALE ON SATURDAY

SCOTSDALE, Aug. 18.—On Saturday the Scottsdale Independents will be hosts to the Braddock Elks, the game starting at 3:30. The Elks have been traveling fast recently having disposed of all their rivals they have met so far in the elimination contests for the N. B. F. championship. The Elks hold wins over Uniontown at Uniontown, Bellvue, Homestead Grays Altoona, Harmsville Consumers and other equally strong semi-pro clubs.

Ross will likely do the hurling for the visitors with either Gatchel or Lefty Spencer the Scottville star on the mound for the Independents.

Former Yough Valley Star With Browntown

Among the faces in the Browntown line-up at Dickerson Run last evening was Tommy Newport. Tommy formerly resided at Florence Mines and was rated as one of the leading left-handers in the coke region when he played in that position for Frank Tarr and his Yough Valley Independents. Tommy has been shifted to middle field. He is a valuable id off man. He got a single double and a triple yesterday besides getting a base on balls in five times at the stick. He pulled two deadly liners down in the field.

Tommy expects to locate in the coke region if possible this summer. He hinted that he would be added to the roster of one of the leading baseball teams in the coke region.

Capstan Will Play Benefit Contest Today

The Capstan Independents and the crack Thompson Independents will clash this evening in a benefit game for the widows of the automobile accident victims at South Connellsville. The game will be called at 6 o'clock. Jeff Moorman will receive the hurling assignment for the glass blowers. Davis is expected to fill his regular position behind the stick. A record crowd is expected at the game this evening.

Tomorrow evening the hard hitting nine from Continental No. 3 will display its wares at South Connellsville, meeting Capstan. The glass blowers will select between Alexander and Nally for the hurling assignment. The game will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Dickerson Run to Attempt to Break Long Losing Jinx

Having lost four straight games in the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad league the Dickerson Run club will endeavor to break this streak by turning the tables on the Pittsburg nine Saturday evening. Since defeating the Pittsburgh team in the first game in the league, the Young Valley nine has suffered two defeats at the hands of Newell, one by Monahan and Saturday they forfeited the fourth game.

Of Interest to Fans.

Winning their seventh consecutive game yesterday, the Pirates handed the New York Giants three-times league champions, and again leading the National League race the second defeat in two days. The score yesterday with Wilbur Cooper on the mound, was 3-1. The lone New York tally came in the opening frame. Pittsburg scored in the fourth, fifth and sixth. The victory shrinks the lead of New York over the Pirates to five games.

The hard hitting nine from Junata trounced the Trotter team at Junata Wednesday evening, 10 to 8. The Junata batsmen found Duffy and Robinson offerings easy to swat and showed the mountsmen no quarters. Konins starred for the visitors but was relieved by McConky when the former got wild. Vincer worked on the receiving end for the winners, while Minkins caught for the Trotter nine.

The League of Nations ball club was defeated by Brookvale at Fayette City last evening, 7 to 6. The winners scored two runs for the victory in the sixth frame.

Hawkesburg, Pa. team defeated the Westley (Pa.) team at the Hawkesburg grounds Thursday evening, 10 to 10. Both teams are from Scottsdale.

Ask Your Dealer to Show You the New Improved Remington Pump Gun

THE Remington Model 10 Pump Gun your dealer is showing now contains so many improvements over the original model produced in 1908 that the Remington Pump Gun of 1924 might almost be called an entirely new model.

Everybody remembers when Remington brought out the Remington Pump Gun—Model 10—the first solid breech, hammerless, repeating shot-gun. This gun was an outstanding achievement.

But there has been a lot of new mechanical and gun-making knowledge accumulated since then. Remington has been improving this Model 10 right along.

And now with refinements and betterments you have a gun that is almost as far in advance of the old Remington Pump Gun as that gun was ahead of anything that was ever produced before.

See the New Improved Model 10. Note its balance and lines—its fine pointing quality—the quickness of hammer action that its design gives. Try it in the field. You will quickly see how far Remington has gone with the development of the Pump Gun.

If you are thinking about a new Rifle for big game—

See the Remington Model 14 Slide Action—the only fore-arm operated high-power rifle made. Gives six shots without reloading. Chambered for .25 Rem., .30 Rem., .32 Rem., and .35 Rem. Cartridges. A Remington Rifle with all the Remington quality and precision—and the Remington knowledge of what a fine arm ought to be.

Do Feet Perspire?

How to Stop the Ill Smell at Once With Newest Remedy.

To keep the feet free from bad odors and stop the constant sweating, wash the feet in cold water and then apply Kojene, the powerful antiseptic, which can now be found in thousands of homes in this vicinity.

Use one part Kojene and one part water—not much is required—a quarter of a cupful is plenty.
Just rub this on the offending feet and let it dry without a towel which it will do quickly.

The ill smell goes at once and after a few days the sweating will cease and the distressing trouble will be a thing of the past. Not only that, but Kojene helps to take the tenderness out of feet that are sore and worn. Union Drug Co. sells large quantities of Kojene for 60 cents a bottle—so do good druggists everywhere and it doesn't satisfy—why? money back—Advertisement.

After several hours very pleasantly spent a delicious lunch was served.

Coke Market Looking Up But Without Noticeable Improvement in Demand

Better General Industrial Conditions Must Precede a Change.

PRICES GROW STEADIER

As in Spot Market, Even for High Sulphur Grades; No Inquiry for September; No Quotations Below $2.00; Foundry Holding Its Own.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—The coke market has been looking up still more sharply in sentiment in the past week. It is true there is no distinct improvement in demand, but the coke trade would have to consider itself unless at the switch it did not improve in sentiment before demand actually increased.

All appearances are that the low point in consumption of Connellsville coke was reached some 30 days ago, or not later than the middle of July. There was a decrease in the number of active blast furnaces during the month, but coke shipments are not really discontinued as to weight or no before a furnace actually goes out, and the next change in furnace activity is expected to be an increase.

With production of coke well adjusted to consumption, as indicated both by production, not having declined lately and by prices not declining but instead growing steadier as to spot furnace coke, an improvement in general industrial conditions is required to bring about better conditions for coke, working through the medium of increased steel buying. Increased steel production, increased foundry operations and increased pig iron production.

In general business circles sentiment has been improving decidedly in the past couple weeks. The volume of steel buying has been increasing of late, though but slightly, the demand being simply perceptible. The decline in steel mill operations has been arrested, production of steel being heavier now than in the first half of July.

The spot furnace coke market remains quotable at $2.00 flat. While this has been the ordinary market quotation since about July 1, it is now holding rigidly whereas at one time there were occasional sales of odd lots at concessions, just to get rid of the coke. Special evidence of the strength of $2.00 as the price on standard furnace coke far spot or prompt shipment is found in the market for medium sulphur coke, which is now quoted at as high as $2.30.

Buyers are endeavoring to secure good grade medium sulphur coke at $2.25, their idea of price, have failed. Naturally there is always a differential between standard and medium sulphur, and the latter could not hold its position if standard furnace coke were really obtainable at under $3.00.

There is no inquiry for September coke, which leaves it that any contract furnace coke quotation would be for fourth quarter. At intervals lately one consumer or another has been sounding out the market on that delivery, and the operators have not quoted below $2.25, so far as known, except in the solitary instance, a few weeks ago, when a sale was made through the year at $2.00. The prospective buyers have had all of that they should do so, but the furnace have been holding to $2.25 as their minimum, and this is being quoted to an eastern furnace that is now sounding out the market. With so much unanimity among the furnace it is considered proper to resist the market for contract furnace coke at $2.25, at least as a firm asking price.

Foundry coke remains at its recently reduced level, making the market quotable as follows:

Spot furnace coke is $2.00
Contract furnace coke is $2.25
Spot foundry coke is $1.00 to $1.10

While the foundry coke is holding its own in point of turnover and is very easily holding its prices. The 25 cent decline that occurred recently, to the present level, looks quite as if it would be the last, for a differential of $1.00 over furnace coke is a moderate one in present circumstances and furnace coke is very firm. As sales are being made all the way from $4.00 to $4.50, and once in a while even more, it would not take much to steady the market up somewhat, but $4.00 sales becoming less plentiful and $4.50 sales more plentiful.

The Pittsburgh district coal trade continues to look up just a perceptible trifle from week to week. There is scarcely any more activity in the spot market, but shipments by most of the operating mines, to regular customers, have been gradually increasing, as stocks have become depleted. These are not regular contract shipments, as there are few contracts, but the business is done by private arrangement from week to week or month to month, without open market competition, prices that are mutually satisfactory being simply agreed upon. In general Pittsburgh district steam mine-run is $1.75 to $2.00. Slack continues to hold its recent advance, with steam at $1.10 to $1.20 and gas at $1.35 to $1.40.

While the pig iron market is not showing any activity, being really quite dormant, the talk in the trade is of furnaces being in stronger position, quite unwilling to consider concessions from the prices ordinarily quoted, and in expectation of better demand very soon. Production of marchant iron is very light and stocks are believed to be in strong hands. The market is quotable dull but firm as follows:

Bessemer pig iron is $19.00
Basic pig iron is $19.00
Pig iron is $19.00
There prices f. o. b. Valley furnaces, freight to Pittsburgh being $1.75.

WASNT FOR SLEEPER

Mr. Whaley is a very light sleeper, one who is easily awakened and is a long time getting to sleep.

One night, not long ago, while traveling through New York state he was obliged to stop at a suburban hotel and, after much tossing about, he finally succeeded in getting into a sound sleep. In answer to loud, repeated knocks on his door, he nervously sat bolt upright in bed.

"What's wanted?" he grumbled. "Package down stairs for you, sir." "Well, let it stay there; it can wait all morning, I suppose."

The boy shuffled down the corridor and after a long time the guest fell into a sound sleep again. Then another knock came at the door.

"Well, what's up now?" queried Mr. Whaley.

"Tain't for you, that package!"

The Paramount

"THE APACHE DANCER," starring George Larkin, is the feature picture today and Saturday at the Paramount. On a recent trip to Europe, Miss Sylvia Holcomb and her father were sight seeing in Paris, seeking local color for short stories, the writing of which, are hobby with the versatile Miss Holcomb. The Green Oak Cafe in the Montmartre section, was visited by Miss Holcomb and her father, and they were greatly interested and entertained by an exceptionally realistic Apache dance given by a man named Beldere, and his partner, Babette. After this performance had been concluded and Miss Holcomb was watching the other dancers, two Apaches attempted to steal her valuable purse. They were frustrated in their attempt by the dancer, Beldere, who defied the Apaches, and succeeded in covering the escape of Miss Holcomb and her father from the cafe.

The romance between Beldere and Miss Holcomb, who was mysteriously kidnapped, is but a part of the exciting chain of incidents which are graphically portrayed.

The Orpheum

"BOY OF MINE"—which opened yesterday at the Orpheum for a three-day attraction, is a Paramount picture featuring an all star cast. A genuine circus, one of the biggest and most famous, was used as a background for some of the scenes of "Boy of Mine."

The scenes were "shot" during the visit to Los Angeles of the greatest show on earth.

Ben Alexander, the First National boy star, who was "bored" in "Pearl and Sam" was the hero of them all.

"Boy of Mine," which, like "Pearl and Sam," is a dramatization of a Booth Tarkington story, centers around the life of a typical American boy, a part played by Ben Alexander.

Incidents in the picture have to do with his visit to the circus.

That the circus episodes would reflect the true atmosphere of a circus, J. K. McDonald sought permission to "shoot" his scenes during a Saturday afternoon.

Ben Alexander, who was granted the privilege, was granted the use of a motor bag and baggage to the circus lot.

In all, fifteen different scenes were taken in and about the "greatest show."

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Governor's Lady" will be shown.

The Soisson

"THE NIGHT MESSAGE"—showing today and Saturday at the Soisson presents Howard Truesdell and Gladys Hulette in the leading roles.

The story is spectacular. It tells the tale of a love adventure in a setting of hate; a bitter feud as a background for one of the sweetest romances ever put on the screen. The characters are portrayed by actors of unusual choice and caliber, and the story is told in a way that is not only for their actual ability to think and live as the odd folk of the story. During the production the actors fairly lived in the characters they played; this shows on the screen in the remarkable and convincing fidelity and naturalness of every player.

Gladys Hulette, who will be remembered in "Tollable David," plays the mountain girl, center of the love story underlying the thriller and the tragedy. Edgar Kennedy, in the tragic role of Lem Berman, the coward, does a surprising bit of acting, and Howard Truesdell, as the mountain fighter ruler, is a compelling figure. Margaret Seddon, as the backwoods mother, who defends her son's life at the point of a gun, and Norman Rankin and Robert Gordon as the two sons of a mountain leader, are splendidly cast, as are other principals in the vivid drama of the hills.

Cable Consented to Be First Makers of Soap

Made from goat's milk and honey, soap, the earliest form of soap was used by the ancient inhabitants of Mesopotamia to give a reddish color to the hair, according to the records of the Babylonian "Story of the Kings." Although soap was hard and liquid material, it was not known as a cleansing substance, but was often employed in the treatment of skin troubles.

The Greeks, it is said, introduced it into other parts of the world.

Today the yearly production in the United States is estimated to be two and one-half billion pounds. But until about the second century of the Christian era was the product used as a cleansing article. It is claimed, and an ancient factory for manufacturing the material unearthed in the ruins of Pompeii still contained a quantity of it in a good state of preservation.

Northern Spain and Massachusetts later became the chief centers of the industry and produced large amounts of soap. Cable variety shows all over the world are famous for the use of soap among amateur pugilists are believed to refer to some kind of mixture which was devoted to purifying cutting apart from those of soap or cleansing substances—Popular Magazine.

Some Preliminaries to His Good Night's Rest

Courtesan Bleecker, at a dinner on Fifth Avenue, was talking about the high prices in Europe since the war. "You say they are high sometimes, but most of it is travel," she said. That reminds me that I heard a good one recently. It was a tale about Caylon. An American had just arrived at a Colombo hotel and the chambermaid said to him, as she put his bed down in order: "Have you asked at the office for your frog, sir?" "My frog?" gasped the American, "what do you mean?" "The frog to kill your cockroaches, sir. Make them give you a young, lean, muscular frog, a good jumper, one that will clean out the cockroaches thoroughly. Then, afterward, when the cockroaches are all gone, you must go down to the office again and get your snake." "Snake? Holy Moses! Why a snake?" "A snake to eat the frog, sir," replied the maid. "And then, as soon as the frog is eaten, you must get out of bed and kill the snake with a club after that you'll be sure of a good night's rest."

ELLIS DREADED EVEN THOUGHT OF EATING

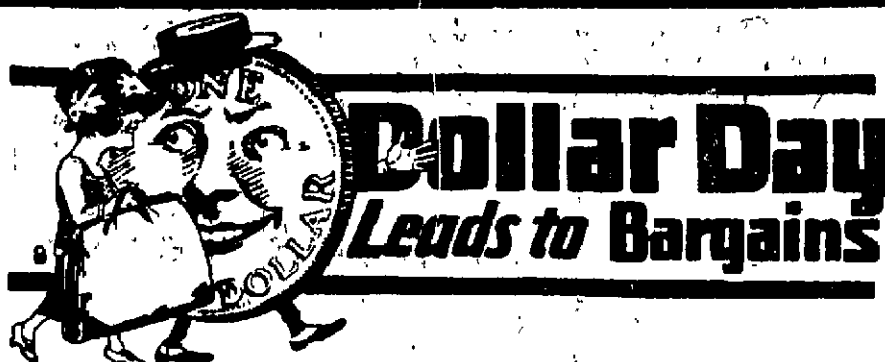

Stomach Was So Upset That Everything Seemed to Disagree With Him, Says "Tanlac Gave Me Complete Relief."

"By the help of Tanlac, I have overcome a case of indigestion that very nearly made life unendurable," recently declared Ernest E. Ellis, well-known manager of a commercial and art studio at 406 Market St., Philadelphia.

"A year or so ago, my stomach was in such a condition that even the lightest meal disagreed with me, and I actually dreaded the thought of eating. Very often at night I would lie awake rolling and tossing till the early morning hours before I could snatch a little nap and I soon got into an awful run-down condition. "Tanlac gave me complete relief and put me to eating heartily of everything, sleeping like a rock and feeling strong and energetic. That I am enjoying the best of health today, I attribute to the fine condition Tanlac left me in then, and I regard it as a remarkable stomach medicine and tonic."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

WHEAT IS WONDER GRAIN OF WORLD

What Is This Bounty of Nature Upon Which Many Millions Depend?

Washington.—What effect will the price of wheat have on the election this fall? News bulletins forecast the wheat crop. Political parties claim candidates can be elected if the price of wheat goes up. The first million dollar clean-up has been reported. Historians have pointed out that wheat or the need of it has caused wars. Just what is this bounty of nature upon which millions depend and which millions know only as bread?

As far as known there was no cultivated wheat on the American continent when Columbus arrived but today the United States leads the world in production of this cereal.

In 1924 the wheat output of the United States was 781,737,000 bushels while in 1920 it was only one hundred million bushels. In 1919 production jumped to 907,970,000 bushels due to the call of war. Every grain of this wheat was much the same, the American Nature association points out.

Wheat belongs to the grass family. Its family name is Hordeae, and if the system of the genealogy books followed four main branches would be found: Common wheat, Egyptian or English wheat, Flint, Durable or Macaroni wheat and Dwarf wheat. The family tree would show many offshoots from each of these groups, including such well-known names like Turkey Red, Blue Stem, Scotch Fife, Golden Chaff and Beard of Winter Flax; red wheats and white wheats, winter wheats and spring wheats; hard wheats and soft wheats.

Many Kinds Developed. Through centuries of cultivation, in varying climates and in different soils through experiment, through crossing and mixing, myriad kinds of wheats have developed.

On the outside the kernel wears an overcoat composed of seedling. Next is a coat, and then a vast composed of bran. The kernel is still further protected by a shirt of gluten cells. Then comes the wheat kernel itself, with tiny indentations at the bottom where the germ of the new plant is stored. In different kinds of wheat the relative sizes of these coverings and the kernel vary, deciding the wheat's value and use.

There are winter wheats and spring wheats. The former is sowed and grows a foothold in the fall, and the latter is put in the ground in the spring.

The weight and size of the wheat kernel determines the flour yield. Flour made from hard wheat is the chief bread flour. That which is milled from soft wheat is best for crackers, cakes and pastry. Durable flour makes a sticky dough fitted for the making of macaroni, into which more than 100,000,000 bushels of the output of the United States goes. Graham flour is made from the whole grain ground into powder, while whole wheat flour, not as common as graham, is made from grinding what is left after the bran layers are removed.

But nature makes man work to save his wheat. How many know a black stem rust of grain, annually taking a toll of some fifty million dollars' worth of potential food products in the North Central states, is a disease which can be cured?

Has its Enemies. In the plant world the "dorm" of a disease is sometimes known as a "spore." Like the typhoid germ the black stem rust spore breeds in certain places. Instead of choosing fifth for its birthplace, however, its early days are spent on the leaves of the beautiful, common barberry bush, known to many attractive lawns and gardens, and when it leaves the barberry it jumps through the air on the wings of the summer breeze.

There are two good methods for removing the common barberry. One is to dig it up, being sure to get every bit of the roots. A bit of root left will grow and send up new sprouts furnishing a spring-time home for the rust spore. A more certain method than digging is to pour ten to fifteen pounds of common rock salt upon the roots of the plant.

A complete story of wheat is not only the story of the pioneers and their covered wagons but a story of the world. As frontiers were flung westward, wheat followed the tide of settlement. Today it grows in the soil of forty-three states. It creates economic and agricultural problems with which legislators, economists and business men as well as the farmer must grapple.

One day in prehistoric times a man set out with a rule line and plow to cultivate wheat. There is no evidence that this grain grew wild and was of value without the help of man. Nature, as with many of its gifts gave the means, leaving it to man to find the way. Grains of wheat have been found in the tomb of Egypt, and ancient records chronicle its cultivation and use for food.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Prefer—

for Economical Transportation

- 1 Chevrolet is modern in appearance. All models are of streamline design, and fine, durable finish. Closed models have genuine Fisher Bodies.
- 2 Chevrolet is modern in construction. It has standard sliding gear transmission, Remy electrical equipment, modern cooling system, suction fuel feed with tank at rear, demountable rims, safe steering mechanism—in fact all the essential engineering improvements found in the highest priced cars.
- 3 Chevrolet is fully equipped as sold. We quote prices on complete cars only. Chevrolet is all there ready for use as soon as you put on your license plates. Compare the fully equipped Chevrolet with other cars, plus their missing equipment, and satisfy yourself which costs least.
- 4 Chevrolet transportation averages less cost per mile than that of any other car at any price. This cost includes the list price of car, insurance, operation, maintenance, annual depreciation and interest on your investment. Why pay more per mile for lower quality?
- 5 Chevrolet has the most powerful motor of any low priced car. Its supremacy for hill climbing and hard going is well known. Where there are most hills there are most Chevrolets. Why drive a slow car and hold up the line when it costs less to be a leader?
- 6 Chevrolet yields solid comfort in riding. This is due to its long wheel base, correct body suspension on extra strong and resilient vanadium steel springs, well-sprung and padded upholstery, deep seats with ample leg room, and correctly inclined backs. The double ventilating windshield and cool motor make driving a pleasure instead of a discomfort.

7 Chevrolet service costs are low because so few hours per year are needed in service stations. Chevrolets are built to stay together, and do not require you to be always near a service station. When adjustments or repairs are needed the Chevrolet Flat Rate System keeps the cost down to the minimum.

8 Chevrolet is a quality car. You are proud to tell of your ownership of a Chevrolet. Your Chevrolet tells the world that you appreciate modern quality and are a good judge of values.

9 Chevrolet is built for safety. It steers firmly and easily and the steering gear will not lock itself. It holds to the road even at high speed on gravel. Its braking power is ample. It is easy to handle and accelerates so quickly it enables you to get out of a bad position promptly. It is one of the few cars granted Class A rating by insurance underwriters.

10 Chevrolet is easy to buy and easy to trade. In buying a home, you always consider what you could get for it if you ever wanted to move. Be sure the car you buy has a good trade-in value, so that when the time arrives to get a new one, you can make a good deal. Chevrolet's trade-in value is high because of the big demand for this well-built, long-lived automobile.

The MYSTERY ROAD
By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM
Copyright by LITTLE, BROWN and CO.

Gerald stood among the wreck of his dream. He seemed to be listening to the thunder of the sea to be watching the queer-shaped shaft of sunlight which stretched across the floor. He found speech almost impossible. The silence lasted so long, however, that he was compelled to break it.

"Your highness' explanation is complete?" he asked.

"It is complete," she replied. "You will understand that your—shall I call it admittance—was, in a sense, an offense to me. In a sense, I will admit that through sheer weakness I was perhaps a little indiscreet. The situation then seemed hopeless."

"I understand," Gerald murmured. "The grand duke, my husband, will wish to offer you some hospitality, she said, touching a bell. 'Be so good as to await his coming.'"

Prince Paul entered the room a moment or two later a touch of sunburn on his cheeks, erect and handsome, a very different person from the broken prisoner of a few months ago. He advanced toward Gerald with outstretched hand.

"It gives me great pleasure," he said, "to welcome you in my very bad English to our home. You see, I reached England safely. Perhaps you will give us the pleasure of your company to dinner tonight?"

Gerald shook his head.

"I have promised the owner of the car which I hired," he said, "to return it to him tonight. I must, in fact, be leaving at once."

A servant entered with a tray bearing wine and whisky. Paul served his guest himself.

"They tell me that this is the most hospitable country of the world," he observed. "Even in Russia we should not let any one else do things for which her highness and I live."

Gerald bowed and raised his glass to his lips.

"I shall drink to you and to your country," he said, "and to the good of both."

He set down his glass empty. Pauline smiled her goodby, but they handed him over to the care of servants with the air of royalty. Gerald moved through the open gates, heard to bare ground behind him, and, looking around for a last view, was dimly conscious of men who watched. Years afterward this strange visit, with all its trifling events, assumed its proper proportions in his mind. That night, however, he drove over the moors and toward the mountains absolutely without any direct thought. It was impossible to believe that his visit had not been the phantom of an afternoon's slumber.

Chapter IX

After they had left London the two men seemed almost to change places. Gerald, who for the last four days had been in much the same morose, almost comatose state as he had been since his return from Scotland, sat up and for the first time began to look about him with interest. Christopher, on the other hand, who during the whole of his journey had been continually endeavoring to amuse and entertain his companion, gradually relaxed into a breath smelling of drink and patchwork standing up one moment and defying death and lying the next without a tremor to guide who would have set us up against the wall and shoot us on sight if they had known the truth?"

"She was an epic figure," Christopher declared. "I wonder what has become of her."

"Heaven knows!" Gerald answered. "We may meet her sometime. I at Monte Carlo or she may have married a respectable German tradesman and buried the past."

"She got into the following ways of the money I took on as well as her own. How these pine trees smell, Chris! And what sun shine! One could sleep here."

Gerald looked back in his place with half closed eyes and Christopher was well content to leave him alone. This was the first time he had spoken naturally of his journey to Russia and the terrible experience through which he had passed. All through the summer months he had lived about the gardens at Hiltersburg accepting life as an inevitable burden, gaining no strength, sleeping little, all the time engaged in morbid struggle with the tyranny of his nerves. Nothing had moved or interested him. These few sentences of his return to a natural outlook. Physically he had shrunk almost to a shadow. There was very little left of the gay and cheerful young man who had passed his arm round Myrtle's waist and drawn her into the car, mocked at Christopher's sentimentalities, and, with a few careless words, built up in Myrtle's heart the fairyland at the end of the road. Just as they drew near the place where they had found her, he seemed to sink out of some of his torpor. He sat up and looked about him with reminiscent eyes. One more bond and they would see the gate!

"Would you like to stop for a moment?" Christopher asked. "Myrtle is almost certain to be here."

This was most assuredly a changed Gerald. He was almost diffident.

"If you think she would like to see us," he assented.

He set upright now leaning a little forward. They were round the corner in sight of the little grove of cypresses. And there at the gate—Myrtle!—Gerald gave a little exclamation which sounded almost like a sob. His incredulous stare had something in it of the stare of pain and fear. "I wrote her days ago and said that we should be passing," Christopher hastily explained.

Drop to Lowest Point of Year Still Leaves Weekly Average Above 50,000 Tons

Merchants Make Much Heavier Cut Than the Furnace Producers.

512 MORE OVENS GO OUT

Of which 362 are at Merchant and 150 at Furnace Plants; Former Retain Lead in Ovens in Running and Tonnage Produced Every Week to Week.

(From The Weekly Courier)
Although the cut of 4,910 tons in the coke production of last week brought the total down to 46,220 tons, which is the lowest mark of the summer depression and also of the year to date, the average for the most recent six weeks, is still above 50,000 tons. The production for that period not having fluctuated very widely, the record of last indicates that the level is still being fairly well maintained within easy reaching distance of the average.

There was somewhat of a reversal in the order by which the curtailments in output have been taking place. During the immediately preceding week, and for several weeks in July, the furnace interests made much the heavier cuts. In the week ended August 2 the reductions were in the ratio of 2,100 tons at furnace and 2,810 tons at merchant ovens. Last week the merchants applied the knife with much vigor, their tonnage was increased 4,440 tons against 300 tons at the furnace ovens.

This changed condition is the result of the merchants placing more ovens on the inactive list last week than they had done in two months preceding. Only in the week ended May 10 had the number of merchant ovens put out of blast exceeded the record of last week. In the latter 362 were closed to coke making, or just 100 less than were thrown idle in the earlier week mentioned. Meanwhile the active furnace list has been pared more or less persistently, the last big production having been in the last week of July when 1,221 were rendered non-productive.

Notwithstanding the blowing out of 362 merchant ovens last week this interest still maintains its lead, both in the number of ovens making coke and in the tonnage produced. At the same time the furnace ovens continue to still more closely approach the low water mark they reached in 1921, when for several weeks those in blast numbered but 650, or 2.6 per cent of the available capacity of this interest.

Of the 1,221 furnace ovens now in the running 381 are at plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company and 400 at plants of independent furnace interests in the last week of July and the first week of August, the Frick company made no change in its own list. Last week 150 ovens were made idle which added another to the six plants of the company at which less than 100 ovens are being operated out of plant equipments ranging from 300 to 600 vertical blast ovens. One plant of 365 ovens is running 200 and another of 901 ovens is running only 350.

The estimated production of coke during the week ended Saturday, August 9, was 46,220 tons, divided between the two districts as follows: Connelleville, 18,710, a decrease of 2,270 tons; Lower Connelleville, 29,510, a decrease of 2,640 tons, or a total decrease of 4,910 tons, as compared with the preceding week.

By interests the production was 18,710 tons, a loss of 608 tons; merchant, 27,510, a loss of 4,140 tons, as compared with losses of 2,100 and 2,810 tons respectively during the week ended August 2.

The 512 ovens added to the idle list included 160 at furnace and 362 at merchant plants. The former were at the Frick No. 3 plant of the Frick company. The changes at the latter included additions of 20 at Griffin No. 1 and 50 at Marion; a total of 70 blown out. JULY PRODUCTION STEEL IN GOT 41.4 PER CENT CAPACITY

Shipments Were at Higher Rate; Mill Operations Now Nearing 50 Per Cent Rate; Prices Steady.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Review will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows: Steel ingot production in July is reported at 1,809,418 tons, which at 51,000,000 tons per annum capacity represented 41.4 per cent against 47.4 per cent in June and 52.6 per cent in March, the record high month. Shipments of finished steel in the month ran a trifle above ingot production, being at nearer 45 per cent than 40 per cent. Mill operations were better in the second half of the month than in the first half, and have increased a trifle more, being now probably nearer 50 per cent than 45 per cent.

The United States Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage decreases were: May 580,368 tons, June 365,581 tons, July 76,433 tons. The diminishing decreases were due more to shipments decreasing than to bookings increasing but it is a fact that May was the lightest month for bookings, June showing an insignificant increase and July a substantial increase. Roughly speaking, shipments in July were 45 per cent of capacity and bookings 10 per cent, the five per cent difference being represented in the 76,433 tons decrease in unfilled obligations. As shipments would not increase this month except by there being heavier bookings, an increase in unfilled tonnage is now to be expected.

All comparisons show that the steel trade has rounded the turn as to sales shipments and production, but increases from the low points have been small and no large gains are to be expected in the near future. One thing, the steel trade is certain not to do is to repeat its performance of last winter.

Steel prices are unlikely to stiffen or avoid further declines. The remarkable fact is that there has been so little decline, when softness began to develop more than a year ago, in July of last year in bands, blooms and hot rolled strips and in August sheets, for the average price of all

Slight Decrease in Car Loadings

Compared with the total for the week of July 21, 1924, a decrease of 11,700 cars, or 11.1 per cent, but an increase of 77,000 or 5.7 per cent over the corresponding week in 1922.

Two principally to a falling off in shipments of live stock, ore and miscellaneous freight loadings of 14,000 cars, an increase of 55 cars over the preceding week ended July 29, week, but 7,700 cars under the corresponding week in 1921. Compared with the corresponding week in 1922, 1,425 cars under the week before, with the corresponding week in 1921. Reports however showed increases in coal loadings were 146,057 cars, an increase of 7.1 cars over the preceding week, and 48,750 cars under last year, but 7,700 cars under the corresponding week in 1921. Compared with the same period in 1922, it was an increase of 22,702 cars.
